May 19. Mr. Schaefer lived in an old toll house on the Lebanon road, between Believille and Shiloh. He had been an employe of the toll road company for a great many years, first as a gatekeeper and tatterly as a kind of superintendent of the road. His wife died a few years ago and since that he had lived in the toll house alone, although his son, Henry Schaefer, Jr., lives not far away. For some time there had been trouble between the old man and his neighbor, Michael Voellinger, over a division line. The controversy had become bitter, Mr. Schaefer considered that he had been dealt with unfairly and he brooded over it until he decided on a feeble man's revenge. His Injuries

Were Serious.

On May 19 he was discovered setting fire to the straw covering a potato patch on the Voellinger farm. Mr. Voellinger and his two sons set upon the old man and beat him severely. It was after midnight, but the old man was placed in a wagon and taken to Belleville and a warrant was sworn out charging him with arson and he was locked up at the county jail. His injuries, which were serious, were given attention.

On his preliminary hearing Mr. Schaefer.

The inhabitants are now flocking into the great square of the town.

If the demonstration increases a panic is imminent.

Fort de France, the scientists say, is in no danger of suffering the fate of St. Pierre, as Mont Pelee is too far away, but there is apprehension of a panic in the night time, should the grayish-yellow gin to fall.

There are no noises from the volcano at present. The fear of the people is intensified by the statement of the scientists a few days ago that the next outbreak of Mont Pelee, no matter when it came, would be much more violent than any of the preceding eruptions. They say all the eruptions have been progressive in violence, each worse than the one immediately preceding.

MAY SLIDE 180 MILES AN HOUR

Inventor Has a New Idea for Trains.

ELECTRICITY TO BE POWER

GREAT MAGNETS WILL RUN UNDER THE WHEELS.

Dr. Albertson Declares That the Speed May Reach Two Hundred and Fifty Miles an Hour and Still Be Safer Than Steam Roads.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, May 27.—From Jersey City to Philadelphia in 30 minutes! To slide on rails at the rate of 180 miles an hour! That is what Dr. A. C. Albertson expect to do with his invention in electrical trans-portation, and he says that with it a speed of over 250 miles an hour might be attained. No dust, no smoke, no joiting. Merely gliding through the air on an elevated track with the rapidity of a projectile fired from a cannon. The heavier the load the less power required to draw the train, it is asserted, and the speed will be limited only by the size of the driving wheels in the moor car.

Dr. Albertson obtained a patent on his invention last Monday. He says he expects to revolutionize transportation and increase the rate of speed to almost any degree dethe rate of speed to almost any degree desired.

All this is to be done through the agency of powerful magnets, fed either by storage batteries carried in the cars or by a wire along the track. These magnets are to silt along on the under side of a flat steel rail, reducing the whole problem to a matter of plus and minus between the pull of the magnet and the pull of the gravity. Hence it is that a heavily loaded train will be drawn with less power than would be required to draw an empty one.

In his office at the Cable building, at 621 Broadway, Dr. Albertson has the apparatus illustrating his invention. He is now constructing a working model, which he believes will convince the scientific world beyond question that he has solved the great question of electrical rapid transit, such as the present generation demands.

May Use an Existing Roadbed.

Existing Roadbed.
Slightly elevated tracks will be required for Dr. Albertson's electric cars, but he says his system may be easily installed along the roadbed of any steam railroad in existence. In his patents he has even provided for special overhead brackets and magnets for tunnels.

The invention provides, first, for an elevated track, not necessarily more than two or three feet from the ground, but it may be raised to any altitude desired. There will be two steel rails, polished on the under side to the smoothness of glass, with a series of strong electro-magnets attached to the cars, running on the under side of the rails.

the cars, running on the under side of the rails.

Small "emergency" wheels will be attached to each car about an eighth or a sixteenth of an inch above the rails, so that in case of a sudden break in the electric current, causing the magnets to be released, the cars will drop on the emergency wheels on the upper side of the rails with no appreciable jar, and the possibility of leaving the track will be avoided, it is declared, no matter at what rate of speed the train may be running.

An engine or motor car so constructed as to present as little resistance to the air as possible is to be provided, and in this will be the two huge driving wheels which will pull the train over the track precisely as the wheels of a locomotive draw a train on a steam road. But the cars will side along supported by the magnets which adhere with powerful force to the under side of the rail.

By the aid of indicators the man in the with powerful force to the under side of the rail.

By the aid of indicators the man in the motor car will know just how much weight there is in each car, and when his train is light he will be obliged to apply more electricity to his driving wheels to overcome the additional pull of the magnets on the empty cars. When the train is heavily loaded gravity will lessen the pull of the magnets and the train will be hauled over the track with little effort.

More Weight, Less Power.

All this was illustrated yesterday with All this was illustrated yesterday with the apparatus Dr. Alber'son has in his of-fice. On an elevated track he placed a small car with the magnets attached to the under side of the rail. These magnets were fed by a current from an incandescent elec-tric light wire. The car, with its magnets, light wire. The car, with its magnets, the five pounds, and the magnets cond have a pull of about 30 pounds, hen the car was empty it required a pull even pounds to draw it over the track, when 20 pounds weight was placed in car it required only three pounds to it, thus demonstrating the accuracy or. Albertson's theory that the power lived to draw the car is reduced directly coportion to the increase in the load in 2ar.

to the practicability of the invention Dr. Albertson said:
"I do not care to make any statements as to what this invention will do for the world, because I believe it is better for a man to point to what he has done than to proclaim what he expects to do; but I have do doubt whatever as to the practicability of my invention.

The failure of the Missouri Republican actions to agree on a man caused the deky in the appointment. Attorney-General knox turned the matter over to Postmaster-General Payne for settlement. He recommended Morsey. His action is considered a Kerens victory and an intimation from the White House that the national Champion Middleweight Jack O'Brien has there.

Mr. Morsey, who will succeed Louis C. Bohle as marshal, is a native Missourian. He was born in 1845 at Warrenton and still makes his home there. He was admitted to the bar in 1872, and, for 16 years, was prosecuting attorney of Warren County. He was made as assistant district-attorney in 1898. Since taking office in the federal building Mr. Morsey has made many warm friends among those who have come in contact with him officially, and he was the recipient of sincere congratulations Tuesday morning.

Fernancian defended Jack O'Brien has refused the offer of Joe Gans, the charmatic form lightweight, to fight him six rounds, Gans offers to get all the purse if he does not stay six rounds, but he wants all of it if he succeeds in staying. O'Brien's refusal to make a match of this kind must not be construed as meaning that he fears the colored lightweight. O'Brien could gain nothing by beating Gans, because he is not in his class, but should he fail to settle the colored lad in six rounds much of his reputation would be gone.

Willie' Mack, the former amateur lightweight champion, offers to box "Tommy" sullivan or "Tim" Callahan a limited number of rounds for a side bet and purse. On behalf of the Coliseum Athletic Club of Denver, Colo., "Reddy" Gallagher has offered a purse of $5000 for a limited round bout between Young Corbett and "Dave" sullivan.

COMPLAIN OF TRUST.

Chicago Citizens Want to See Master Plumbers' Association Investigated.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, May 27.—The federal authorities have been asked to investigate the National Association of Master Plumbers of the United States, which, according to the complaints, operates like a trust, if it is not one. Its headquarters are in Kansas

The complaints against it contain the fol-lowing charges: It applies the boycott and weekly advises its members of the existence of such boy-cott and the names of the firms or men boycotted.

CLEVELAND, O., HAS HAD THE PROPERTY SINCE 1864.

LEONARD CAISSE OWNED IT

After His Death Heirs Could Not B Found, but They Now Assert Rights.

WORCESTER, Mass., May 6.-Family recordslooked for daily from the parish priest establish the claim of Joseph A. Demars, gate tender of the Boston & Albany Rallroad, to a share in $8,000,000 which has been in possession of the city authorities of Cleveland, O., since 1861. Mr. and Mrs. Demars, in case they are Mr. and wrs. Demars, in case they are who died in Cievening hearly ago.

Men and women have grown old living in hope of eventually becoming wealthy, families have increased and multiplied until now, should the fortune be divided, a liberal estimate would give those having claims only about $200,000 each.

Family Came

From Canada. The family comes from Canada. So did

The family comes from Canada. So did Leonard Caisse, the multi-millionaire of Cleveland. After his death heirs were advertised for, and over 200 put in claims, but were unable to establish them.

Further proofs of the family of this millionaire have come to light which has caused the Cleveland authorities to issue another call for heirs to the millions to appear and put in their claims.

A dispatch from Middletown, N. Y., gives details of the death of the owners of the real estate which constitutes this property. Pierre Bourdon, a real estate man of 122A de Mountigny street, and Joseph Prudhomme, a carpenter of 265 Piessis street, Montreal, were grandsons of the brother of Leonard Caisse, who died at Sarah Scorskending, Huron County, Ohio, leaving to his sons, Absolon and Leonard, his fortune, which he made by speculating in Cleveland real estate when the city was young.

Old Bible.

These two sons of the Canadian millionaire died intestate and without direct heirs, the last in 1880. Many have Americanized the name from Calsae to Case, and it was despaired of ever finding the rightful heirs until J. E. Durham of Huron County, Ohio discovered the proofs.

He was demolishing an old barn on a newly acquired piece of property when he discovered in the ruins an old Bible. The fly leaves of this book contained the genealogy of the millionaire's family in complete detail and in his handwriting. From these details it was learned that a brother had lived in Lanorale, a small town between Montreal and Quebec. The brother was a farmer. Antoine Calsae, and was the heir to the property after the two sons died. He evidently never knew of the fortune left by his brother, and later by his nephews.

It is through their relationship with this Antoine Calsae that Prud'homme and Bourdon of Montreal expected to get the money, as they are grandchildren of Antoine Calsae on the maternal side.

Mayor May

Assist Heirs. These Montreal men have applied to the nayor, asking him to inform the mayor of Eleveland of their relationship to Antoine aisse and to assist them in getting the 8,000,000.

"This old Lanoraie farmer, Antoine aisse," said Mr. Demars, "was my wife's ather's uncle. I knew him well, as I was orn in Lanoraie. My wife and all her people, with the exception of one brother, Canille, were born in this little town, too. There has been much talk over this property.

"We felt for years that we were the real descendants of the Canadian millionaire, but had nothing to prove it with more than the family name. About 18 or 20 years ago the matter came up, but we could do nothing, and when I read this story I knew in a minute the necessary proofs had been found.

"This Antoine Calsse is the very link in the family which gives us the proof. We believed all the time that he should have had the money, but he could not establish a relationship, or did not try, and when my wife's people tried they could not do it.

"The finding of the would not do it.

Expansion in the Paint Trade.

A commendable spirit of energy is apparent in the large and expanding trade established by the Moune City Paint & Color Co. And its kindred branch, the Gregg Varnish Co. As makers of high-grade brands in the several departments of their business their reputation is euviable and worthy of emulation. They have not reached the high point of success thus attained by easy stages. The building up of a business like theirs has required persistent and arduous labor, acute foresight and perseverance of the most untiling pature. They have passed fires and floods and financial storms, not without serious loss and great discouragements, but the indomitable surpose to reach the top that ever characterized the spirit of the men who led these enterprises met no obstacles which their unbending determination could not overcome. MERICAN EXCHANGE MOBBED.

PARIS, May 27.—The American Exchange has been smashed by an angry mob.
The proprietor, Donald Downie, formerly of New York, had an altercation with one of his French employes. The latter was slightly intoxicated and refused to icave the premises, whereupon Mr. Downie caned him severely.

An angry mob quickly gathered, as is an angry mob quickly gathered, as is usual in Paris, and, seeing blood flowing from a Frenchman, it began by smashing the windows and finally wrecking the place. During the excitement 1000 persons collected in the Rue Seribe.

The crown of champion, already resting uneasily on the head of Young Corbett, is Heart Trouble Is Supposed to the auspices of the Collegem Athletic Club.

When the South Side track was distant to William Bruen, the well-known starter. During the recent race meeting at Havana, Cuba, he was engaged as starter and save general satisfaction. He also officiated at Charleston, S. C.; Newport, Ky.; Atlanta, Ga., and many other tracks in the southern circuit. He came to St. Louis from his home in Cleveland, O., about 20 years ago, and at the time of his death was about 40 years old.

For several years he had been employed in ex-Speaker James H. Cronin's saloon at Twelfth and Walnut streets, and Mr. Cronin had a warm regard for him.

CHAMPION CORBETT TO FIGHT ATTELL

Broad Instrumental in the Match-Making.

DENVER, Cole., May 28.—Stung by criti-cism of his fight with Kid Broad, in which he was stated to have been favored by the he was stated to have been lavored by the referee in getting the decision, Feather-weight Champion of the World Young Corbett has agreed to fight the conqueror of Kid Broad, Abe Attell. The articles of agreement were signed last night and call for a 10-round battle to take place the night of June 6 in this city, the weight to divided in 75 and 25 per cent portions.

Attell was present at the ringside during the battle between Broad and Corbett and challenged the winner. Corbett probably would never have met Attell had not the criticism of his battle with Broad been so widespread.

It is conceded here that no better test of Corbett's real ability could be made short of a battle with McGovern than the latest match made for Corbett. Attell, according to report, whipped Broad decisively at St. Louis, and, on Corbett's weak showing against the same fighter, appears to be on equal terms with the champion.

McKenna, Attell's manager, is in high spirits. Ever since his arrival in Denver with his protege he has been dunning Corfett for a fight. Attell has boxed Corbett before, but never in public. Notwithstanding Attell will be giving away weight to the champion. McKenna is confident, from his knowledge of both fighters, that his man will get the decision over the champion. "Corbett will not be able to put a glove."

champion.

"Corbett will not be able to put a glove on my boy," said McKenna. "I know both fighters well. I know what they can do, and if Corbett can get to Attell in 10 sounds or 20 rounds I'm willing to lose without a word."

St. Clair County Bond Case Nearing a Settlement.

ELECTION CALLED FOR JUNE 7

QUESTION NOW IN CONDITION FOR A COMPROMISE.

Peaceful End Promised of a Thirty Years' Warfare for a Missouri Railway That Was Never Built.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
OSCEOLA, Mo., May 27.—The famous St. Clair County bond case is now on the road to settlement, after more than 30 years of bitter contention, during which time the judges of the County Court have spent most of their terms in prison or hiding in the woods. The mass meeting of taxpayers which was held here yesterday afternoon was brought about through the efforts of Gen. John B. Henderson, representing the bondholders, and a number of the leading citizens in the county who appear to be as heartily tired of the prolonged contest as the owners of the bonds are. Gen. Henderson made one of the best Democratic stump speeches ever made in the county. He denounced the Boer war and the war in the Philippines. He wound up by suggesting a compromise of the bond case, but refused to name the the bond case, but refused to name the sum he thought should be agreed upon. He denounced as an outrage the locking up of the county judges because they refused to order a tax levy, but excused Judge Philps from any blame, shifting the responsibility on the bond attorneys.

The meeting ordered elections held in each township on June 7 to select three delegates, these to meet in the County Court the following Wednesday, when a committee will be selected to confer with Judge Phillips and agree upon a basis of adjustment to be voted upon by the people.

All three members of the County Court were present. United States Marshal Duradjustment to be voted upon by the perple.

All three members of the County Court were present. United States Marshal Durham having, brought Presiding Judge Thomas D. Nevitt from Maryland, Mo., where he has been confined in jail. Jurge Davis Walker was allowed to go unmolested today, being the first day of public freedom since taking the oath of office. Judge George A. Vannice has never been served with the order of the Federal Court ordering him to levy a tax for the payment of the railroad bonds.

The bonds in dispute were issued in 1868, under an act of the legislature, when St. Clair County, Cass County and Henry County constituted an isolated territory that was entirely without transit facilities. The country was just recovering from the effects of the civil war and the inhabitants of western Missouri were anxious to enjoy the advantages that other parts of the state did with the aid of the new railroads. In response to a petition, signed by 900 taxpayers, constituting at that time a majority of the voters, bonds to the amount of £23,000 were issued for the Tebo & Neosho Railway, a line that was projected from Kansas City south. Henry and Cass sounties issued bonds for similar amounts. The right of way was obtained, a road-bed constructed and the construction committee had gone so far as to obtain one locomotive when the financial crash of 1873 came and the enterprise fell through. In the meantime the bonds had been delivered and having been placed on the market became the property of innocent purchasers. The Highston was carried to the United States Supreme Court, which decided that the debt was a just one. In this fight Judge John F. Philips of Kansas City, Senator George G. Vest and Judge Broadhead of St. Louis were attorneys for the county settled on a basis of 66 per cent. In 1875 St. Clair County had a chance to settle for $190,000. Cass County, after two of the judges had been shot for having the temerity to announce their intention to vote the bonds, underwent a change of sentiment. With the aid of Caroline Shuyler Wants Possession of Real Estate Valued at From $10,000 to $16,000.

An echo of the Kratz affair was heard Tuesday morning in Judge Ferris' division of the circuit court when the case of Caroline Schuyler against Charles W. Prange, Julia Prange and Fred W. Prange was called for trial. The plaintiff is suing for the possession of certain property valued at $10,000 to $16, 000, and it is the intention of the plaintiff to show by Charles W. Prange the real waine of the property involved in the suit When Judge Ferris asked the plainting if she was prepared to preceed a motion was filed asking for a continuance of the case until the October term of court. Accompanying the motion was an affi-daylt stating that Chas. W. Prang of 1916 North Euclid avenue had left St. Louis May 1, 1902, and was now and had been since that date in Guadalajara, Mexico, where he was assisting one Charles Kratz, who is under ndictment for bribery, to escape, and aiding n preventing the extradition of said Charles Kratz for said crime.

The plaintiff states that now that Kratz has succeeded in escaping the vigilance of the officials at Guadalajara, the defendant Prange will return to St. Louis and defend the case in question.
Upon these grounds Judge Ferris granted

AN INSTANTANEOUS SUCCESS! Long before the doors opened Monday morning the streets in front of Famous were crowded with throngs of people—all eager to enter and partake of the rare bargains awaiting them. And at 8 o'clock when they did enter what a sight they beheld. The store was completely decked with yellow tickets—the insignia of great price concessions in every department. Crowds, jams, throngs, a veritable army of purchasers were in attendance all day Monday and up to this writing today. Never has Famous or any other store in St. Louis accommodated such a vast assemblage of anxious purchasers and never were customers better pleased with the splendid values obtainable. Some of the lots are completely sold out, but new ones have arrived and ready for tomorrow—even greater and grander bargains than prevailed earlier in the week. Come by all means and get your share. FOR THE HONOR OF THE ARMY.

Gen. Chaffee denounces, the findings of the courtmartial in the Waller case as a "miscarriage of justice." He disapproves of the acquittal except that Waller, owing to his illness, was not in a mental condition for his duties, and is therefore not guilty of

As to Lieut. Day, the officer who executed Waller's orders to kill the prisoners, Gen. Chaffee is very severe. He says: "While document is not very clear. But it is equally incomprehensible fully conceding the grave responsibility assumed by a subordinate why anybody should oppose their widest publicity. er in wilfully disobeying an order of his commanding officer, still the weighty reasons related, with which Lieut, Day was acquainted, so tainted Maj. Waller's order that Lieut. Day should a man much given to independent courses and in keeping with have been prompted to positive disobedience. newspapers which have noisily denounced as traitors everybody who objected to Maj. Waller's conduct are placed in a lous plight by Gen. Chaffee's plain words.

The way to maintain the honor of the army is to require an honorable observance of the laws of war. That seems to be Chaffee's view. And it is safe to say that the organs themselves will acquiesce when they recover from the hysteria which over-

James J. Hill knows something more than railroads. He thinks hat the Mississippi should have a channel of 12 feet to the gulf, and cannot see where money could be applied to greater advantage. It is of the highest importance to the country that Congress shall give full consideration to Mississippi river improvements, and of the highest importance to St. Louis that the channel be used for transportation.

MEAT INSPECTION.

The interesting interview with U. V. Houck of the government inspection bureau at the National Stockyards in East St. Louis, who visited St. Louis. There can be no doubt about the propublished in Sunday's Post-Dispatch, was not reassuring to meat eaters in St. Louis. Instead of making it plain that "nobody who bear names that are intimately associated with the founding of the republic. healthy meat," it showed that St. Louis is very poorly protected against frauds in meat.

y covers meat intended for interstate and export trade. After an animal has been rejected as diseased, it may be brought into St. Louis and sold. The tag fastened to its ear by the government inspector may be taken off, and no one will ever know that the beast was condemned. And as far as meat grown in Missouri is concerned, the United States government affords St. Louis people no protection. This city must protect its citizens against diseased animals and meat,

If they are to be adequately protected. Including those recently appointed, St. Louis now has four meat be greatly relieved by them. Inspectors. New Orleans found plenty of work for 12. Can St. with about three times the population of New Orleans, get along with four? What will the millions of visitors to the World's Fair, coming from cities and countries where the strictest inspection of foods is the rule, think of a city that permits its people to be endangered from the sale of meat unfit for human

The admission of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona would be the right kind of expansion.

A VEGETARIAN VICTORY.

, A long walking match in Berlin recently terminated in a vice tory for a vegetarian pedestrian who finished far in advance of his meat-eating competitor.

This is regarded by vegetarians as a distinct, practical proof of the correctness of their doctrine.

But is it? According to swallow logic, yes; but that has long they are now. since been refuted by the fact that one swallow doesn't make a summer, nor even two, or three,

But this is no better than swallow logic, since oxen are not men. Millions of years ago or thereabout exen took to vege- to call attention to the year. The suggestion is a good one. The tarianism and men took to meat. Perhaps the adaptations following have some force, even against the theory of vegetarians, public mind. It is a question which must be decided by each individual according to his tastes and needs. Scientific men contradict each other on questions of food, and change their opinions with every ew discovery. The time to lay down a hard and fast rule has not yet arrived.

The great hardship of the American naval officers arrested for starting a "hot time" in Venice seems to have been that they were not allowed any more liquor after they had been locked up.

CULTURE AND INDELICACY.

The co-eds of Northwestern University have set their faces against "Indelleacy," In which respect they claim superiority over their sisters of the Chicago University. The young women of Chicago go about the campus bareheaded and with sieeves rolled up above their elbows. Shocking!

The young women of the Evanston institution never appear in the classrooms even when the day is hottest in anything but the conventional dress. They are completely covered, save a

Mrs. Martha Foote Crow, dean of women at Northwestern, says her girls possess an advantage over the midway co-eds in the living in a more refined and cultured community. When told of the shocking practice of the Chicago girls Mrs. Crow said: "There is such an atmosphere of refinement and culture in "There is such an atmosphere of refinement and culture in "Called States." Southern, (215).

to be careless of their appearance about the campus."

How fortunate that there is one place where refinement an cutiture are so pervasive! Real refinement requires hats or bonets. Culture forbids arms bare to the elbows. The ideal is reached where the woman is bandaged and bundled and swathed around about with ten thicknesses of stuff until she is con pletely invisible. She is altogether refined when there is no suggestion of the altogether.

Two news items, in Monday's Post-Dispatch, should be read by the Board of Public Improvements and by all who have it in their power to hasten the equipment of the street cars with effective fenders and brakes. A fender that worked saved the life of 3-year-old Agnes Martin. But a fender that failed to work Men who love the brimming cupaided in the death of 11-year-old Johnnie Masterson. As the Post-Dispatch has frequently said, it is the little children and Say: "I could give the habit up the aged who are the principal victims of the ineffective fender and brake. Each day's delay in equipping the cars with good brakes and fenders may mean one or more unnecessary deaths.

HILL ON RIVER TRANSPORTATION.

James J. Hill of the Northern Securities Co. is a keen, far seeing business man and an expert in matters of transportation His unqualified indorsement in the Post-Dispatch of the plan to utilize the Mississippi river for freight transportation carries great weight.

Mr. Hill indorses the movement to put through packets on the river, from the standpoint of a railroad man. He says that river transportation would relieve the congestion of freight on the railroads for a large part of the year. He says it is greatly needed by St. Louis and that Congress should appropriate enough money to maintain a 12-foot channel all the year around. He considers the pending appropriation for a limited period insuffi-

Mr Hill is giving St. Louis business men a lesson they ought not to need. He is telling them what is necessary for the greatest success and the largest extension of St. Louis trade.

Not only will the use of the Mississippi for freight transporta tion relieve the freight congestion on the railroads, but it will reduce St. Louis rates over an immense territory and thus enable St. Louis to gain trade from which the city is now barred.

More than this, the use of the Mississippi is necessary to the further improvement of the river. If Congress provides an eightfoot channel and St. Louis makes no use of the river, it will be folly to ask for more appropriations.

The appeal of the committee of the Manufacturers' Association published in the Surday Post-Dispatch, for support for a new packet line should receive prompt and liberal responses from the merchants and manufacturers. Make use of St. Louis' great natural advantage. Start the river packets.

Grandjury work in St. Louis is making 1902 a memorable year the history of the city. It may lead us to actually take an interest in our own affairs and keep them out of the hands of crim-

JEFFERSON'S BIBLE.

The Jefferson Bible, of which so much is heard, is not a Bible at all, but a collection of passages from the four gospels which appealed to him and seemed to answer a special need.

Why anybody should want to publish these extracts as a public

The real value of the book lies in the illustration it affords of Thomas Jefferson's character and mode of thought. He was and his political philosophy will, no doubt, find many pleasing sillar est for a wider circle of readers, though many will, no doubt, look at it curiously for a half hour or so.

of Conduct of Illinois Central Hospital.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., May 27.-In the face of the refusal of Gov. Yates to order an investigation into the charges that the management of the Illinois Central Hospital for the Insane was responsible for the death of Earl C. Watkins, a 16year-old patient, the grandjury of Morga County has just returned an indictme

County has just returned an indictment against two of the former attendants in the institution charging them with involuntary manslaughter.

The boy died as a result of a scalding received in a bath tub while being attended by Charles Goodnow and J. T. Owen, employes of the asylum. Capiases have been issued for the arrest of both defendants, but thus far they have not been served. Owen is said to be in Jacksonville, while Goodnow is employed as coachman for the superintendent of the State Asylum for the Insane at Bartonville. Owen probably will be arrested tomorrow, and a deputy wheriff left for Bartonville last night to place Goodnow under arrest. Bail was fixed by the grandjury at $3,000 for each defendant.

Has Been Demanded. While sentiment in Jacksonville is divided with respect to the necessity for an investigation into the affairs of the asylum, the action of the grandjury represents in well defined feeling in the community in favor of a probing of the affairs of the inindictment of the two attendants of

The indictment of the two attendants of the asylum, coming, as it does, inmediately following the charges made against the management of the institution by Mrs. Martin McHugh, who alleged that her husband, while a patient, had been mistreated, may force Gov. Yates to order a full and complete investigation.

According to the evidence produced before the grandjury, young Watkins died as the immediate result of a scalding received while being given a bath by the two attendants. The father of the dead boy. Elijah Watkins of this city, swore to the complaint. He also appeared before the jury and told of the condition in which he found his son after the scalding. Among the other witnesses examined were two former employes of the asylum, since discharged.

With my fierce mus-ta-chi-os
And my um-ber-ell and clo'es am off to spend the summer in Wisconsin;
While St. Louis boils and bakes
I shall linger by the lakes, ing known as Count de Swell (at home I'm Johnson)

How to do it? Easy, quite!
Take your little pen and write
Just an adiet to increase your little business;
Then some extra cash you'll make,
A vacation you can take
Where the summer girl will dazzle you to dizziness.
T. MUCH JOHNSON.

Cost of the Bridge Will be $400,000.

WORK TO BE BEGUN SOON

F. W. CHILDS CHOSEN PRESIDENT BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

There Will Be a Passenger and Vehicle Roadway and Provision Will Be Made for Electric Cars.

Work will soon commence on the new steel bridge to span the Missouri river at St. Charles.

The estimated cost of the structure $400,000. The bridge will have a passenger and wagon roadway and provision will also be made for electric cars.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the bridge company held Monday after-noon at St. Charles the following officers

F. W. Childs, president; J. B. C. Lucas, vice-president; William Brown, secretary

J. B. Brown was made general manager and Theodore Bruere & Sons attorneys for the company The supervising engineers are Waddel and Hedrick of Kansas City.

St. Charles now has a population of 10,-000 and is considered one of the prosperous towns in the state. The one great drawback has been the lack of a bridge across the river connecting the town with St.
Louis and affording an opportunity for competitive transportation companies.

Until the electric cars, which now run from downtown to Pattonville, a distance of 16 miles, were operated, the city was at the mercy of one railroad company and maximum rate of $1.80 per round trip The establishment of the electric system, however, reduced the rate to 20 cents, al-though it is 35 cents one way by rail. At present the electric cars are ferried across the river.

"The new bridge," said Mr. Lucas to the Post-Dispatch Tuesday, "will prove the best possible aid in developing St. Charles, om now on I look for a decided mu-sands of St. Louisans would live in St. Charles, if it were not for the incom dence of getting there and the further fact that transportation rates are high.

"I should say that work on the new structure will begin probably within 30 days and we expect to have it complete: within a year.

POLEET SENTENCED FOR LIFE

Preacher Pleads Guilty to the Murder of Charles Isaakson, His Traveling Companion.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 27.-Rev. John Poleet pleaded guilty in the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon to the murder of his traveling companion. Chas. Isaakson, of Granite City, and was sentenced by Judge Granite City, and was sentenced by Judge Creighton to imprisonment in the penitentiary at Chester for life.

Only once did the prisoner show any sign of emotion, and that was when his attorney mentioned his wife and bables while making the plea for his life. Tears ran down Polec's cheeks, but in a moment they were wiped away and he resumed the coolness that has characterized him since his arrest.

After his punishment had been fixed and he was returned to jail, Polect said that he was satisfied with the verdict of the court.

Gourt.

He said that had it not been for his aged parents and wife and babies, he would rather have had the death penalty inflicted upon him. Polect is 24 years old and his victim was 17 years old. He murdered him for ill on the night of Agril 27, north of Springfield. The two lived in Granite City and were on their way to Chicago.
